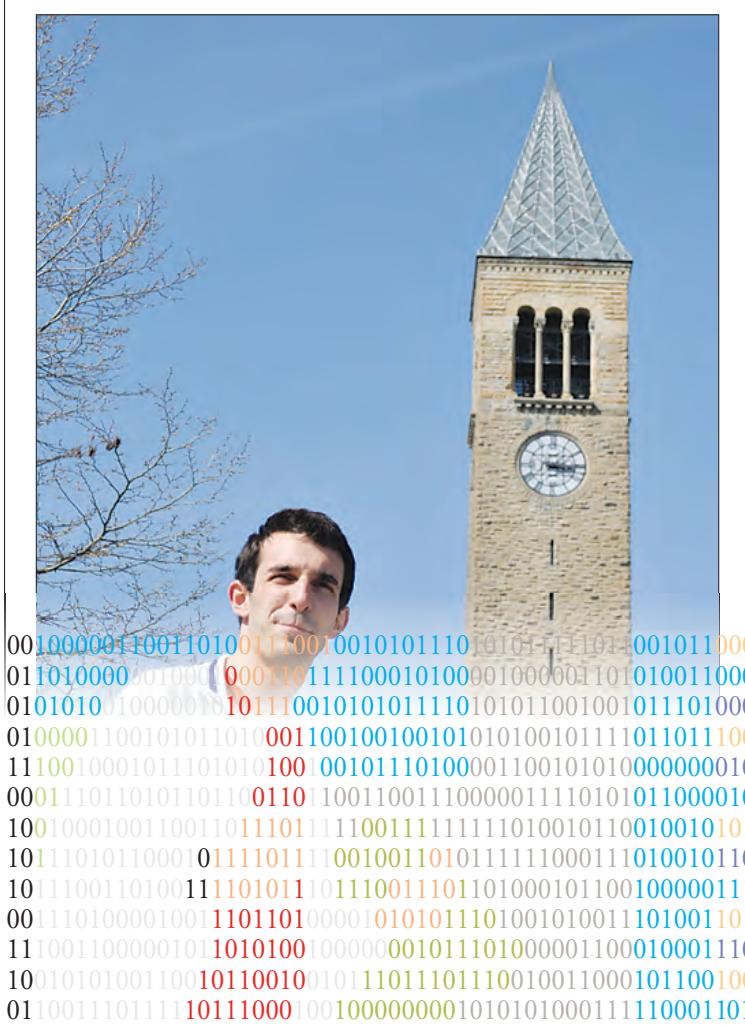
INDEPENDENT SINCE 1880

The Cornell Daily Sun

Vol. 126, No. 123 ■ ITHACA, NEW YORK, TUESDAY, APRIL 13, 2010 ■ 20 Pages – Free

Dazed and confused



New Health Plan

By ELIZABETH MANAPSAL
Sun Senior Writer

With the passage of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, U.S citizens will able to stay on their parent's health insurance policies until they are 26. For college seniors, the question is how this will affect the job search, as different companies offer varying degrees of coverage.

Prof. Chris Collins, human resources, suggested that health care rarely introducing a brand new layout &

original web-only features
CORNELLSUN.COM